5. To promote opportunities for emerging electronic game developers in the department and, consequently, in the country.
6. To establish communication channels between various stakeholders involved in esports development and sectoral policies (game creators, producers, developers, distributors, and organizers) to support the dissemination, maintenance, and consolidation of the sector.
7. To coordinate with public and private entities, such as universities, associations, federations, and game production units, to facilitate research and information exchange on the development of esports at the departmental, national, and international levels.
8. To advance education on the benefits of practicing the various disciplines that comprise electronic sports.
9. To accelerate the development of the electronic sports ecosystem by highlighting the need to establish departmental representation institutions that collaborate jointly for national representation development.
10. To mobilize sectors and resources to strengthen the infrastructure required for digital disciplines.
11. To develop knowledge and align the growth of the electronic sports ecosystem within the framework of sustainability and social progress defined by international instruments on this subject.

CHAPTER II

ACTIONS, OPERATIONS, DEFINITIONS, STRATEGIES, LEGAL CAPACITY, NON-PROFIT NATURE, AND SCOPE OF APPLICATION

Article 5 – (ACTIONS AND OPERATIONS): In accordance with its purpose and objectives, the "Tarija Esports Association (ATDE)" shall have the authority to carry out activities, actions, and operations defined in approved institutional plans and projects, adhering to the following minimum framework:

1. Management, execution, and administration of economic, financial, and technical resources from public or private, national or international sources to implement various programs for action, training, organization, and dissemination in esports.
2. Organization of tournaments, competitions, events, congresses, presentations, conferences, seminars, programs, and other initiatives with technical support and in coordination with municipal, departmental, national, or international organizations, private companies, and others. These initiatives may be for recreational or competitive purposes and aligned with the competitive calendars established by the esports federation.
3. Certification of third-party initiatives not affiliated with the Association under conditions established by the Association as official events for national or international representation selection.
4. Recognition and accreditation of professionals, teams, and neighborhood esports associations.
5. Providing and developing tasks related to technical assistance, implementation, advisory, and consultancy services in any expression of esports.

6. Dissemination of information and resources regarding professionalization and industry updates.
7. Promotion of logistics, marketing, and the establishment of Gaming Lounges, as well as participation in platforms and spaces for organizing esports events.

Article 6 – (DEFINITIONS AND STRATEGIES):

1. Definition: Esports exist within the entertainment and mental sports industries. Also referred to as "cybersports" or "electronic sports," esports are multiplayer video game competitions involving professional players who adhere to specific parameters such as:
   1.1. A defined format, such as a league, tournament, or ranking system.
   1.2. A clear objective, such as winning a trophy or prize. Amateur participants aim to establish consistent and socially accepted practices.
   1.3. A distinction between participants, whether teams or individuals.
   1.4. Competitions may be conducted strictly online, in-person, or in hybrid formats, with the requirement that the competitive dynamic occurs within one or more video games.
      1.4.1. Hybrid formats involving a mix of mental and physical skills ("Phygital" format) may also be considered.
   1.5. Competitions involve two or more players competing under equal conditions, within the rules and competitions established for each particular event. These events may be regulated by companies, sponsors, independent organizers, or national and international associations.
   1.6. The terms "esports," "electronic sports," and "competitive gaming" are used interchangeably without affecting the nature of the activity.
2. Quality Strategy: The goal is to achieve public approval and loyalty from players, sponsors, developers, spectators, and followers by maintaining high standards of quality. Stable training and programming with reliable and competitive standards are prioritized.
   Esports represent a new frontier of competition and a bridge to the global digital metaverse. The ATDE's success will depend on maintaining a global perspective, emphasizing innovation, inclusion, and the exploration of new synergies between esports titles and societal interests. The Association will prioritize staying up to date and implementing current knowledge to provide guidance and develop the infrastructure necessary for disciplined esports practice. The use of disruptive technologies, such as Artificial Intelligence, Blockchain, Virtual Reality, and Augmented Reality, exemplifies the Association's commitment to innovation and modernization.
   Similarly, the Association recognizes the importance of staying current on human rights and social inclusion, actively promoting competitions free from discrimination and rooted in respect for human rights.
3. Cost Containment Strategy: The Association aims to adhere to budgets to maintain a proper balance between expenses and income, preventing financial losses that could lead to closure. Strategies will be adjusted as needed. Under no circumstances should economic factors negatively impact the quality of the Association's services. Recognizing the infrastructural challenges at both the departmental and national levels, the Association will seek to minimize expenses through agreements and strategies. The ATDE will rely on its members to execute activities under a cost-minimization framework.

4. Differentiation Strategy: The ATDE is unique and pioneering, offering distinctive products of broad interest. Establishing a recognizable identity in the minds of the citizens of Tarija as a symbol of quality, education, excellence, and development is a constant priority. To achieve this goal, the Association will:
   4.1. Be represented and led by the most relevant professionals, prioritizing those who meritocratically demonstrate strategic connections, knowledge, planning skills, and inclusive ecosystem expansion strategies.
   4.2. Maintain inclusivity as a core principle, ensuring broad participation across numerous esports titles and events to strengthen the talent pool for mass participation and qualifying events.
   4.3. Explore various aspects of the esports phenomenon to contribute to national and international knowledge and discussion.
   4.4. Nurture the Association's identity in Tarija, reinforcing its image as a beacon of quality, education, excellence and development.

   Opportunities to be promoted include tournament logistics, high-quality marketing, broadcast rights, content creation, consultancy services, and the promotion of Gaming Lounges or LAN Centers. The Association will also foster active societal participation through partnerships with schools, universities, technical institutes, and workplaces.

Article 7 – (LEGAL CAPACITY): The "Tarija Esports Association (ATDE)" has legal capacity and authority recognized by the Political Constitution of the State and relevant national, departmental, and municipal laws. The Association will carry out all necessary actions to achieve its foundational objectives.

Article 8 – (NON-PROFIT NATURE): The non-profit nature of the Association is expressed through the following aspects:

1. Income will be used to cover operational expenses and support its programs and projects.
2. Any economic and financial surpluses will be consolidated into the Association's institutional assets.
3. In the event of dissolution, remaining assets will be executed in accordance with this Organic Statute.
4. Resources and income will exclusively serve the Association's activities, objectives, and principles. They shall not be distributed among members under any circumstances.

Article 9 – (SCOPE OF APPLICATION): This Organic Statute, along with the Association's Internal Regulations and other internal rules, will govern its organization and operations. The Association's legal relationships with natural and legal persons, whether public or private, national or international, will be subject to this Organic Statute and applicable laws of the country.

TITLE II

8. Maintains relationships with similar organizations and institutions at the departmental and national levels.
9. Establishes permanent communication with mass media outlets (radio, television, newspapers).
10. Communicates information on the Association's activities.

THE SECRETARY OF INTER-INSTITUTIONAL RELATIONS

Article 32 – (FUNCTIONS):

1. Develop work agendas to foster collaboration between sports organizations at the departmental and national levels.
2. Develop and sign agreements, memorandums of understanding, and other documents in coordination with the President.
3. Register new members and coordinate their inclusion in the Association's membership records.

THE TREASURER

Article 33 – (FUNCTIONS):

1. Collect and manage funds generated from the Association's activities.
2. Administer the Association's finances in compliance with Bolivian accounting standards.
3. Present an annual financial report at the end of each fiscal year.
4. Organize fundraising activities.
5. Collect membership fees.

Article 34 – (VACANCIES): If the Vice Presidency becomes vacant, the Event Secretary will assume the role.

In the event of a total vacancy within the Board of Directors, elections will be held according to the provisions of this Organic Statute and Internal Regulations.

CHAPTER II
THE ASSEMBLY

Article 35 – (ASSEMBLY):

1. The Assembly is the highest decision-making body of the institution.
2. Resolutions will be adopted by a simple majority vote of the active members, except in cases explicitly provided for in this Organic Statute.
3. A record of minutes will be maintained, documenting the deliberations, agreements, and resolutions of the Assembly.

Article 36 – (ASSEMBLY PROCEDURES, QUORUM, AND MEETINGS):

1. Ordinary Assemblies will be convened every two years by the Vice President at the request of the President, through written and/or electronic notifications.
2. Extraordinary Assemblies will be convened by the President through the Vice President whenever deemed necessary.
3. The minimum quorum for the lawful establishment and functioning of the Assembly is defined as the presence of more than half of the active members, according to the membership registry. In cases requiring a two-thirds vote, this serves as the minimum quorum.
4. Meetings will proceed with the number of members present at the time.
5. An Extraordinary Assembly will be convened exclusively to make decisions regarding the dissolution of the Association.
